

GEORGIA'S SCHOOLS.

THE PROGRESS OF THE COMMENCEMENT SEASON.

DALTON in a Fever of Excitement Over the Fair Young Graduates—The Exercises in LaGrange Female College—Notes From Other Points Throughout the State, Etc.

DALTON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—An interesting season is now opening in Dalton by reason of the approaching commencement exercises. Visitors are already beginning to arrive. The commencement sermon of the Joseph E. Brown institute will be preached on Sunday morning at the Baptist church by Rev. J. J. S. Caloway, of Gordon Springs. President J. W. Proctor offers an interesting programme for the following week, in the declamation and other exercises of his classes. The High school, presided over by General and Mrs. Thomas, will also give an exhibition of their classes on Thursday night, the 17th, in the opera house.

On the same evening the art levee of the Dalton Female college will be held, at which an art exhibition and social will be given by the young ladies of the art class, before which also an address upon art will be delivered by Dr. George A. Lofton, of this city.

On Sunday, the 20th inst., the commencement sermon of the Dalton Female college will be preached by Bishop Hargrove, of Atlanta. The week will begin with the graduation and exercises of the college. President Jones and his able faculty have prepared a feast of fat things for the entertainment of the literary public.

THE "College Temple" Exercises.

NEWNAN, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The commencement just closed was one of the most brilliant that we have ever witnessed.

The sermon delivered by Dr. J. H. Hall on Sunday was one of great power, and added much to the high reputation of Dr. Hall for depth, learning and strength and clearness of thought.

Munday was occupied by the primary and sophomore departments, and on Tuesday the juniors and compositions. This is one of the brightest days College Temple has had for years, and much is expected of them as seniors.

The seniors of today—those who have won the greatest and deepest—were conferred on the following: Misses Anna Lizzie Perkins, Lizzie Dent, Rosa Dominic, Maude Hughes, Mary Andrews, Willie Andrews, Ada Gibson, Mamie Arnold and Willie Elder. The senior scholarship medal was awarded to Miss Lizzie Perkins, and the junior scholarship to Miss Anna Lizzie.

The following medals were given in the different departments and branches of study: Misses Louise Killien, Fannie Leigh, Daisy Peden, Sallie Gibson, Lizzie Dent, Willie Andrews, Maude Hughes, Lizzie Arnold, Fannie Hartsfield.

The literary address was delivered by Col. W. M. Smith, of Seneca, S. C., on his subject "Academy Life," and delighted the audience with a well-delivered, thoughtful and beautiful address. He is a superb speaker and a young man of much culture and great promise.

Colden L. P. Barnes, of the Newman bar, delivered the prizes, and captivated the audience with his limitable style of oratory.

The LaGrange Female College.

LAGRANGE, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The exercises of this institution are over, and it can be truly said that it does the best annual commencement in the history of the college for a number of years. Some music, compositions and all speak better days for this institution under the regime of President Rufus W. Smith. Professor Smith is one of the first educators of the day.

On yesterday's commencement day, seven hundred students sat in a room decked out in the style. They were as follows: Misses Ella Walker—2nd honor, Emma Barrett, Mary Lucy Davis, Lucy Evans, Bessie Jackson, Mattie Magruder, Willie Miller, Ruth Nixon (3rd honor), Jessie Pitman, Leman Peeler, Belle Poer, Bannie Trimble (1st honor), Minnie Ware, of Georgia, and Misses Lizzie Dyer, Willie Burris, Ida Smith, Newlin Smith, of Alabama.

Professor Slaton Should Have Been There.

FLOVILLA, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The Fluvilla High school, under the efficient principality of Professor M. H. Hayes, closed its brilliant commencement in the history of the college for a number of years. Some music, compositions and all speak better days for this institution under the regime of President Rufus W. Smith. Professor Smith is one of the first educators of the day.

On yesterday's commencement day, seven hundred students sat in a room decked out in the style. They were as follows: Misses Ella Walker—2nd honor, Emma Barrett, Mary Lucy Davis, Lucy Evans, Bessie Jackson, Mattie Magruder, Willie Miller, Ruth Nixon (3rd honor), Jessie Pitman, Leman Peeler, Belle Poer, Bannie Trimble (1st honor), Minnie Ware, of Georgia, and Misses Lizzie Dyer, Willie Burris, Ida Smith, Newlin Smith, of Alabama.

Colonel Tibbs Gives a Dining.

DALTON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Colonel W. E. Tibbs, who has a large number of his friends at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the National hotel, of which he is the owner, Today is his 70th birthday. Last Saturday he was behind his crops, and he dropped corn all day with no ill effects. He raises about 1,500 bushels of corn, wheat and oats annually. His gray hair is his head. His friends will give him an elegant gift basket. The cornet band will serenade him. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ballard, of Atlanta, are here, and will attend the dinner. Mrs. B. is a granddaughter of Colonel Tibbs.

An Accidental shot.

LEXINGTON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Jack Davis, colored, the boss of the brick kiln crew, accidentally shot himself yesterday. The pistol was dropped from his left shoulder and went off. The ball entered his left shoulder blade, causing a most serious wound. He is under the best medical attention, who will endeavor to bring him out all right. His people will be at No. 255 Foundry street, Atlanta.

Isabella Honey Escapes.

GAINES, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Last night Isabella Roney, under sentence of life service in the penitentiary, escaped from jail and is at large. She was confined in the room for female prisoners which had not been case, and she worked a hole through the plastering above and let herself down by means of blankets.

The Two Sam's Go to Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—It was rumored on the street today that Sam Small and Sam Jones, better known as the "Two Sam's," would visit Athens in a few weeks, to start a big revival in our city. The rumor further was that the cotton compress near the Georgia railroad would be used for the meetings.

The Waycross Conference.

ALATAYA, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The district conference of the Waycross district met here tomorrow. Bishop J. S. Key is present. The citizens here have made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the body. It is the first time the conference has been held in this part of the district.

To be Extended.

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—There is no doubt about the extension of the Columbus and Western railroad to Birmingham. Arrangements are being made to put the surveying corps in the field at once.

Welcoming a Student Home.

MIFFLIN, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Miss Estell Cauthens, who has been attending school at Shorter female college, has returned home, to the delight of her many friends.

GEORGIA BREVITIES.

Colonel Henry Walker, of Rome, is in attendance on the Lagrange commencement.

Doctor G. A. Lofton, who has been conducting the religious festival at Phenixburg, Ga., has returned home to labor in the fields. The literary address at Jonesboro, before the Middle Georgia college, on June 20th, also preaches the commencement sermon at Calhoun, June 25th, and an address before the institute at Adairsville, June 23d.

LOOKING FOR INCENDIARIES.

The Marshal of Jackson, Georgia, as a Detective.

JACKSON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Mr. Sam Fox is the best marshal this place has ever had. He was appointed last January, and has done some very efficient work since he has been marshal. He is not only a good marshal but is building up a reputation as a good detective. He is now working up a case that has been shrouded in mystery for several months. Last November the store of Sutton & Bankston, situated on the north side of the square, was consumed by fire with the exception of two stores. No suspicion rested on anyone in particular at the time; but Marshal Fox went to work to investigate the cause of the burning. About two weeks ago he got on track of one of the guilty parties getting up sufficient evidence to make the arrests. He arrested one John Baily, a young negro of this place, and locked him up in jail. Baily will have his trial next Monday.

DARIEN'S PORT RECORD.

Deputy Collector Grubb Engaged in Making up a Report.

DARIEN, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Deputy Collector Grubb is now preparing for the engineer department of the United States a record of the commercial statistics of the port of Darien for the past year, up to and including December 31, 1885.

This record will comprise the amount and approximate value of shipments of cotton, rice, timber, lumber, naval stores, number and tonnage of foreign and coastwise vessels, tables of imports and exports, etc.

The boiler belonging to Lawrence & Thompson's saw mill in Folk, blew up Wednesday, killing Billie Lumpkin, the watchman. His body was blown one hundred yards, his head being blown off. Damage sustained $1,000.

Captain W. C. Matthews, of Sandersville, shipped a half bushel of peaches last Tuesday, which he sold at the rates of $20 per bushel.

Mr. Thomas Longine of Campbell county, has five guns cut from one tree which hold respectively 27, 22, 20, 18 and 17 bushels, aggregating 104 bushels. A few trees like this will have the expense of a crib.

Messrs. Ferguson & Co., contractors, have put a large force to work on the extension of the A. T. & S. L. railroad from Lumpkin to the Chattahoochee river, and the grading will be done in as short time as possible.

The stockholders of the Americans, Preston and Lumpkin railroad will have an annual meeting in Americus on the 16th inst., to elect officers for another year. Holders of stock will be carried over that road free on that day.

The boiler belonging to Lawrence & Thompson's saw mill in Folk, blew up Wednesday, killing Billie Lumpkin, the watchman. His body was blown one hundred yards, his head being blown off. Damage sustained $1,000.

Mr. M. D. McGlynn, of Athens, has been very unfortunate with his brick-yard up Sandy creek, having lost his third lot, aggregating several hundred thousand. He will move his yard back on the Northeastern road, as it was there above high water.

Some interesting statistics will probably be presented in the report.

"He! He! He! He!"

The Reason Why an Editor Lost His Good Temper.

From the Dawson, Ga., Journal.

One of the commonest faults among south girls is a bad, too much at nothing. We will not grow old, however, so long as everything they said themselves when there was nothing to laugh at. It looks exceedingly silly, and one such young lady would be greatly ashamed of herself if she could only see herself as others see her. We were riding on a railroad not long since when a young gentleman and lady came into the cars at a certain station while we were stopped.

The Jackson Argus says: A Mr. Rice, who claims to be traveling in the interest of the W. C. T. U., lectured at the Methodist church on Wednesday night of last week. He stood about an hour and a single member bright thought fell from him. As a speaker he was a big failure. His subject was the evils and vices of the day.

Mr. G. H. Tamlin, of Bartow county, says that northern parties are negotiating for the purpose of opening up the mounds that are located on his farm. The work will probably be commenced in the early fall. Mr. Tamlin has always been a decided advocate for his collection, which though small, is said to be his largest.

Mr. Tamlin is a good man, and when he is not at his farm, he is a good man.

The following medals were given in the different departments and branches of study: Misses Louise Killien, Fannie Leigh, Daisy Peden, Sallie Gibson, Lizzie Dent, Willie Andrews, Maude Hughes, Lizzie Arnold, Fannie Hartsfield.

The literary address was delivered by Col. W. M. Smith, of Seneca, S. C., on his subject "Academy Life," and delighted the audience with a well-delivered, thoughtful and beautiful address. He is a superb speaker and a young man of much culture and great promise.

Colden L. P. Barnes, of the Newman bar, delivered the prizes, and captivated the audience with his limitable style of oratory.

The LaGrange Female College.

LAGRANGE, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The exercises of this institution are over, and it can be truly said that it does the best annual commencement in the history of the college for a number of years. Some music, compositions and all speak better days for this institution under the regime of President Rufus W. Smith. Professor Smith is one of the first educators of the day.

On yesterday's commencement day, seven hundred students sat in a room decked out in the style. They were as follows: Misses Ella Walker—2nd honor, Emma Barrett, Mary Lucy Davis, Lucy Evans, Bessie Jackson, Mattie Magruder, Willie Miller, Ruth Nixon (3rd honor), Jessie Pitman, Leman Peeler, Belle Poer, Bannie Trimble (1st honor), Minnie Ware, of Georgia, and Misses Lizzie Dyer, Willie Burris, Ida Smith, Newlin Smith, of Alabama.

Professor Slaton Should Have Been There.

FLOVILLA, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The Fluvilla High school, under the efficient principality of Professor M. H. Hayes, closed its brilliant commencement in the history of the college for a number of years. Some music, compositions and all speak better days for this institution under the regime of President Rufus W. Smith. Professor Smith is one of the first educators of the day.

On yesterday's commencement day, seven hundred students sat in a room decked out in the style. They were as follows: Misses Ella Walker—2nd honor, Emma Barrett, Mary Lucy Davis, Lucy Evans, Bessie Jackson, Mattie Magruder, Willie Miller, Ruth Nixon (3rd honor), Jessie Pitman, Leman Peeler, Belle Poer, Bannie Trimble (1st honor), Minnie Ware, of Georgia, and Misses Lizzie Dyer, Willie Burris, Ida Smith, Newlin Smith, of Alabama.

Colonel Tibbs Gives a Dining.

DALTON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Colonel W. E. Tibbs, who has a large number of his friends at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the National hotel, of which he is the owner, Today is his 70th birthday. Last Saturday he was behind his crops, and he dropped corn all day with no ill effects. He raises about 1,500 bushels of corn, wheat and oats annually. His gray hair is his head. His friends will give him an elegant gift basket. The cornet band will serenade him. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ballard, of Atlanta, are here, and will attend the dinner. Mrs. B. is a granddaughter of Colonel Tibbs.

An Accidental shot.

LEXINGTON, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Jack Davis, colored, the boss of the brick kiln crew, accidentally shot himself yesterday. The pistol was dropped from his left shoulder and went off. The ball entered his left shoulder blade, causing a most serious wound. He is under the best medical attention, who will endeavor to bring him out all right. His people will be at No. 255 Foundry street, Atlanta.

Isabella Honey Escapes.

GAINES, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Last night Isabella Roney, under sentence of life service in the penitentiary, escaped from jail and is at large. She was confined in the room for female prisoners which had not been case, and she worked a hole through the plastering above and let herself down by means of blankets.

The Two Sam's Go to Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—It was rumored on the street today that Sam Small and Sam Jones, better known as the "Two Sam's," would visit Athens in a few weeks, to start a big revival in our city. The rumor further was that the cotton compress near the Georgia railroad would be used for the meetings.

The Waycross Conference.

ALATAYA, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—The district conference of the Waycross district met here tomorrow. Bishop J. S. Key is present. The citizens here have made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the body. It is the first time the conference has been held in this part of the district.

To be Extended.

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—There is no doubt about the extension of the Columbus and Western railroad to Birmingham. Arrangements are being made to put the surveying corps in the field at once.

Welcoming a Student Home.

MIFFLIN, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—Miss Estell Cauthens, who has been attending school at Shorter female college, has returned home, to the delight of her many friends.

GEORGIA BREVITIES.

Colonel Henry Walker, of Rome, is in attendance on the Lagrange commencement.

Doctor G. A. Lofton, who has been conducting the religious festival at Phenixburg, Ga., has returned home to labor in the fields. The literary address at Jonesboro, before the Middle Georgia college, on June 20th, also preaches the commencement sermon at Calhoun, June 25th, and an address before the institute at Adairsville, June 23d.

TAPER OFF!

on "Red Lion" Mix.

GEORGIA GOSSIP.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY BRIEFLY COLLATED.

His Brains Dashed Out—The Sale of Tamlin's Indian Mounds—Fish Fries in Bartow—An Old Man—A Young Man's Disappointment—News Notes From All Parts of the State.

Americus is agitating the erection of water-works.

The "Blind Tigers" are disappearing from Cartersville.

The Jasper county Sabbath-school association is going to buy a large tent in which to hold its meetings.

Aaron Carr, of Oconee county, is 80 years old and makes $2,200 a day.

Rev. J. J. S. Caloway, of Gordon Springs.

President J. W. Proctor offers an interesting programme for the following week, in the declamation and other exercises of his classes.

The High school, presided over by General and Mrs. Thomas, will also give an exhibition of their classes on Thursday night, the 17th, in the opera house.

The Dalton Female college will be held, at which an art exhibition and social will be given by the young ladies of the art class, before which also an address upon art will be delivered by Dr. George A. Lofton, of this city.

On the same evening the art levee of the Dalton Female college will be held, at which an art exhibition and social will be given by the young ladies of the art class, before which also an address upon art will be delivered by Dr. George A. Lofton, of this city.

On the same evening the art levee of the Dalton Female college will be held, at which an art exhibition and social will be given by the young ladies of the art class, before which also an address upon art will be delivered by Dr. George A. Lofton, of this city.

THE CONSTITUTION

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE WEEK, AND IS DELIVERED BY CARRIERS IN THE CITY OF ATLANTA, AT FIVE CENTS PER COPY, ELEVEN CENTS FOR THREE MONTHS OR $1.50 A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTION IS FOR SALE ON ALL TRAINS LEADING OUT OF ATLANTA, AND AT NEWS STANDS IN THE PRINCIPAL SOUTHERN CITIES.

ADVERTISING RATES DEPEND ON LOCATION IN THE PAPER AND WILL BE DETERMINED UPON APPLICATION.

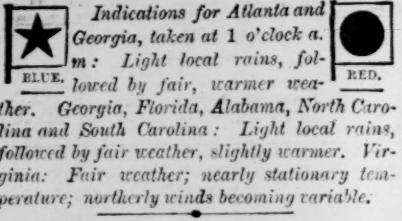

ADVERTISEMENTS CONTAINING IMPORTANT NEWS, SUBMITTED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

ADDRESSES ALL LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS, AND MAKE ALL DRAFTS OR CHECKS PAYABLE TO

THE CONSTITUTION,

ATLANTA, GA.

ATLANTA, GA., JUNE 11, 1861.

MR. HOLMAN, the cheese-paring congressman from Indiana, got into a tangle with Mr. Morrison yesterday. Mr. Holman is a crank upon the subject of limiting public expenditures.

The rioting in Belfast will serve to dissipate the idea that the south of Ireland is the seat of rebellious sentiment. The women and girls went into the rioting with all the rest of the men.

The senate has passed Mr. Beck's bill making it unlawful for congressmen to become attorneys for land grant railroads. The railroad attorneys squirmed terribly, but they had to meet the issue. Eleven men were bold enough to vote against the bill.

EARL CARNARVON admits that he had a conversation with Mr. Parnell regarding Irish affairs, but claims that the conversation was personal and not official. Mr. Parnell, on the other hand, claims that the noble lord knew what he was about, and sought the interview himself.

Will He Make the Pledge?

The railroads do not want the railroad law modified if they can have men appointed whom they can control. The appointment of men on the commission who sympathize with the railroads rather than the people would be a greater victory for the corporations than the mere modification of the law. It would amount in effect to the substantial repeal of the law, because all the decisions of a board so constituted would be against the people and in favor of the railroads. THE CONSTITUTION, when the legislature was in session, favored the modification of the law suggested by the commissioners themselves, but THE CONSTITUTION has never been in favor of enacting the law so that the people would not be able to reap the benefits of it.

How does Mr. Bacon stand? At Sparta he evaded the question, but seeing that such an evasion would practically leave him no following in the state, he has since said that he is in favor of maintaining the law as it stands. This, however, is not the important point. Will he, if elected governor, appoint men as commissioners who sympathize with the railroads rather than the people? Will he pledge himself to this? We can answer the question now. He will not make the pledge.

Then and Now.

Some of the Bacon organs are trying to make a point against THE CONSTITUTION by saying that its efforts just now in behalf of primary elections were considerably less when Dr. Felton was making things warm in the seventh district. The point is not well taken. THE CONSTITUTION said then, and it says now, that the little courthouse meetings called to take snap judgment on the people constituted a wrong that should be promptly righted. THE CONSTITUTION declared, moreover, that this was wrong, as well as all other wrongs, that had been fastened on the party could be, and would be, righted by the party itself.

In other words, THE CONSTITUTION contended that the remedy proposed by Dr. Felton, namely, the disorganization and demoralization of the party, was infinitely worse than the evil which he proposed to cure. We admitted the justice of many of the complaints made by Dr. Felton, but criticized his attempts to destroy the party.

THE CONSTITUTION maintains that party harmony can best be maintained by giving the democratic voters an opportunity to express their will and pleasure at the polls.

Dr. Felton Once More.

Dr. Felton writes a letter which we print elsewhere. Concerning it, we have a few words to say.

Dr. Felton says his controversy with Mr. Hill has nothing to do with the pending election. Then what did the private letters of Mr. Hill and Mr. Stephens, quoted from in Dr. Felton's and "Plain Talk's" letters, have to do with the campaign?

Here is the point we make on Dr. Felton's assaults on Mr. Hill's senatorial career. He now assaults General Gordon's senatorial record, and charges in effect that General Gordon was corrupt as a senator. We show that he made practically the same charge against Senator Hill. We show that he was so earnest in his assaults on Mr. Hill's senatorial record that he says he left a room in which Senator Hill was speaking "in shame and disgust" at Senator Hill's conduct, and so overwhelmed with mortification at Senator Hill's course, that he would have denied being from the same state as Mr. Hill if he had been asked. This is stronger language than he has ever used about General Gordon's senatorial career. He surely will not contend that his language towards Mr. Hill was justifiable. We know that it was not. And yet he supported it with just as detailed statement as he uses towards General Gordon.

General Gordon's record as a senator was equal to that of any man that ever illustrated Georgia. His record speaks for itself. On that record he stands. Dr. Felton assays to find flaws in it just as he found flaws in Senator Hill's record. He certainly went further than he was warranted in going in Senator Hill's case. He must acknowledge this himself. He has done the same thing in General Gordon's case. The people understand this perfectly, and will make up their verdict. What Dr. Felton said about Mr. Hill's record as a senator, will be forgotten before the years have stained the whiteness of the marble that immortalizes his memory. General Gordon's illustrious record as soldier and statesman, will illumine pages of Georgia history when Dr. Felton's passion is forgotten. Dr. Felton, him self, will realize this when his passion has burned out and his reason resumes its sway.

Pool Discriminations.

The decision of Judge Woods refusing to grant the injunction prayed for by the Western and Atlantic railroad to prevent the commission from acting on the petition of John N. Dunn and Aaron Haas, will bring the case up on its merits.

The commission has never claimed the power to make rates on through freights, or to prevent the railroads from making their own rates. The case contained in the petition of Messrs. Dunn and Haas is, briefly stated, that the corporations, under the law of Georgia, have no right, in fixing their charges on through freights, to discriminate in favor of communities and individuals as against other communities and individuals. The railroads have the right, under the law, to make their own rates on through freights, while the commission has the right, under the law, to prevent unjust discriminations. This is the position of the petitioners, and the commission will take action on the petition.

This action of the commission will decide whether the board has the right to prevent the railroads from making unjust discriminations against communities and individuals in their charges on through freights. The railroads have the right, under the law, to make their own rates on through freights, while the commission has the right, under the law, to prevent unjust discriminations. This is the position of the petitioners, and the commission will take action on the petition.

The rioting in Belfast will serve to dissipate the idea that the south of Ireland is the seat of rebellious sentiment. The women and girls went into the rioting with all the rest of the men.

The senate has passed Mr. Beck's bill making it unlawful for congressmen to become attorneys for land grant railroads. The railroad attorneys squirmed terribly, but they had to meet the issue. Eleven men were bold enough to vote against the bill.

EARL CARNARVON admits that he had a conversation with Mr. Parnell regarding Irish affairs, but claims that the conversation was personal and not official. Mr. Parnell, on the other hand, claims that the noble lord knew what he was about, and sought the interview himself.

Will He Make the Pledge?

The railroads do not want the railroad law modified if they can have men appointed whom they can control. The appointment of men on the commission who sympathize with the railroads rather than the people would be a greater victory for the corporations than the mere modification of the law.

It is the natural outgrowth of the rebellious sentiment so openly encouraged in Ulster. The Protestants are very strong in Belfast, seventy-five out of eighty places of worship being of their faith. As in Ulster, they are organized into societies of Orangemen, and they have doubtless been tempted into acts of aggressive violence by the weakness of the Catholics.

It is no new thing for the Orangemen to inaugurate civil war in the streets of Belfast. In 1827 they engaged in a riot lasting several days. They sacked stores, burned houses, slaughtered people without regard to age or sex. The riots of this week are of the same character. American readers are appalled by the intensity and fierceness of these Irish outbreaks. In our cities it is a rare thing for a mob to hold its ground against cold steel and lead. In Belfast, however, the Orangemen withheld the bayonet charge of the police. Musket balls failed to disperse them, and armed only with paving stones they besieged the police in their station houses.

The Catholics of Ireland have too much human nature in them to tamely submit to these outrages. They will retaliate, and in some places give the Orangemen a taste of their own methods. The situation is complicated by the fact that the government is in sympathy with the rioters, and will be slow to punish them. With men high in authority and position, like Wolsley, at their back, the malcontents feel safe. Their premature opposition to home rule, while in reality rebellious and treasonable, accords so well with the sentiments of the British aristocracy that they are applauded in England as patriots instead of being denounced as rebels.

Victor Hugo has written a poem on "The Devil of Satan." Nobody knows whether the poet alludes to the tip of the gentleman's shirt, the tip of his forked tail, or the heel of his hoof. Such obscurity, while it is to be sought in poetry, would not suit a volume of statistics.

BROTHER BLAINE is getting some good advertising from the British papers. The truth is, when it comes to getting free advertising Brother Blaine is equal to a circus agent with a diamond ring and a box of five cent cigars.

QUEER stories come to hand occasionally. In 1828 Thomas A. Merckau, a handsome young Swede living in New York, was married to Miss Emily Colona, a beautiful blonde, tall and willowy, with jet black hair, which inclined to curl. Soon after their marriage the young husband clasped a neighbor's child, and out of revenge an anonymous note, evidently from the enraged parents, informed the young husband that his wife's mother was a negro. That was a sad blow to Merckau, and when a son was born to him his fears were not dispelled. Merckau was a decided blonde, but the son was much darker than the mother. Merckau, therefore, went west. The child is dead, the wife has found a husband—"de-facto," if not in name—and Merckau is suing for a divorce.

THE BACON papers want the campaign pushed. The pushing campaign will begin to pinch after awhile.

THE Augusta Chronicle appears to be mad because General Gordon wouldn't take part in a political contest. Isn't it a good time to retake that at the fair in Washington?

RICHARD M. HOE, who died Monday at 100, was a remarkable man. He was the inventor of the Hoe printing presses and did much toward pushing the art of printing up to its present high standard. He left America for a European tour in October last, carrying with him his wife and daughter.

CINCINNATI has a "terror gang" something like our own esteemed wild cat club, only more so. A few nights ago a poor, half-witted and epileptic German girl, while going from her work to her mother's home, fell in a ditch. When she recovered consciousness she was in an out-of-the-way place surrounded by about a dozen members of the terror gang, who were wrangling over their victim. The girl had been brutally outraged and was in a dangerous condition. The uproar created by the brutes who had taken possession of her attracted the police, and two of the gang were arrested.

If all the charges made against General Gordon by the Bacon organs were true, he would be the most corrupt man that ever lived in this country.

THE people know how to deal with a campaign of slander. They have had occasion to teach the small politicians several lessons in this direction during the past ten years.

A CYCLORAMA has just been completed in New York representing Grant's unsuccessful assault upon Vicksburg May 22, 1863. The New York Times describes the cyclorama as follows:

The spectator stands upon a Confederate redoubt, with muskets, fragments of broken shells, useless old cannons, strewn the steep declivity on every side, holding the eye in a most astonishingly close range of the rebel rifles and cannon. General Grant, mounted, surrounded by his staff, is still visiting the scene of carnage. Chinese girls are all in a flutter, and dressmakers and milliners are working night and day to make up for the loss of beauty. His horse is near by. Major-General Smith, commanding the tenth division, is seen galloping along through a narrow lane, shaded by fine old trees, at a rapid gait, with a body of troops, reinforcements, and supplies, moving rapidly to the scene of carnage and desolation. At the left hand of the spectator is another redoubt, manned by Pemberton's men. Union soldiers, reinforced by fresh troops, are advancing, and are climbing the slope, the earthworks an entrenchment between bluecoats and butternuts is going on,

men, for their weaker brethren, an inspiration far more thrilling than can be found in the red tumult of battle. Editor Jackson may go without a monument, and his name may soon be forgotten, but he was nevertheless, a great man, and his example has made the world brighter and better.

The Old Story.

About sixty years ago two prizes were awarded for the best theological essays at the good old English university of Oxford. The first prize was awarded to a bright young man named Tupper, and the second went to the commission has never claimed the power to make rates on through freights, or to prevent the railroads from making their own rates. The case contained in the petition of Messrs. Dunn and Haas is, briefly stated, that the corporations, under the law of Georgia, have no right, in fixing their charges on through freights, to discriminate in favor of communities and individuals as against other communities and individuals. The railroads have the right, under the law, to make their own rates on through freights, while the commission has the right, under the law, to prevent unjust discriminations. This is the position of the petitioners, and the commission will take action on the petition.

Naturally great things were expected of Tupper. He was ahead in the race, and it was thought that young Gladstone would be lucky if he continued to hold the second place. Tupper became a star in the literary firmament. Hundreds of thousands of readers in England and America glorified him and praised his books in the most extravagant terms. Gladstone wrote books, too, but they were mercilessly crushed by Mauley and other critics, and fell flat.

But time works great changes. Today the name of England's premier is a tower of strength. It is as strongly linked with modern scholarship and literature as it is with the statesmanship of the age. In the meantime what of Tupper? Somewhere in England, in obscure retirement, lives a shabby old man whose chief delight consists in recalling the days of the past, when he was a popular idol, and when his books were in every household. To the present generation he is almost unknown. This man's final failure in life is a mystery to him. How did he fall behind in the race? How did his slow competitor pass him? He cannot understand it, but the world can. Tupper blossomed prematurely. Gladstone's growth continued until he reached old age. Tupper disposed of all his goods when he first opened shop, Gladstone kept on replenishing his stock. Tupper was only a flesh-and-blood man, while Gladstone was a spirit.

THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE pretends to be afraid that there will be a great deal of political ostracism exercised if Gordon is elected. THE CONSTITUTION proposes to take STEPHEN PATTERSON under its wings. Nobbody shall ostracise him.

to result disastrously for the northern men. The color bearer who is planting the stars and stripes on the parapet will be shot dead. The lifeless hand clutching to the standard. Of the brave men who succeeded in reaching the redoubt on that successful day, only one can be named. The body of Colonel Rooper is lying where he fell, on a ridge in front of the town of the Iowa. The body of General Pemberton stands in a comparatively secluded spot, leaning upon his sword. The sword is broken, and the hilt is broken. General Lee is rallying his men. Bursting shells illuminate the air on every side, and their fiery gleam is seen through the smoke. The smoke is bursting in the mid-south of the spectators, and the ground is covered with dead and dying. In the east the sky had turned dark and gloomy. The sun is setting over the Mississippi federal regiments, and the Sixth Missouri federal regiments, both against each other are going on. These are but a few scenes of the battle of Vicksburg.

THE BALTIMORE PRESBYTERY has been in session at Belair, and one of the reports of education said among other things: "It is incumbent upon the church to see that our boys do not pass from the Godless common schools to atheistic academies and colleges, and that we do not grow up nation of atheists."

Members of the presbytery defended the common schools against the charge of Godlessness. The author of the report said he believed the schools were practically Godless, but he did not object to striking out the objectionable sentences.

THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE pretends to be afraid that there will be a great deal of political ostracism exercised if Gordon is elected. THE CONSTITUTION proposes to take STEPHEN PATTERSON under its wings. Nobbody shall ostracise him.

PERSONS AND THINGS.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing. The trial was brought to my attention by Rev. Mr. Dobbs, the Baptist minister of that city, in a letter to the New York Independent.

The author of the report said he believed the schools were practically Godless, but he did not object to striking out the objectionable sentences.

THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE pretends to be afraid that there will be a great deal of political ostracism exercised if Gordon is elected. THE CONSTITUTION proposes to take STEPHEN PATTERSON under its wings. Nobbody shall ostracise him.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

THE MEMBERS of the jury that convicted MAXWELL of murder in court, and who sat in judgment on him, were asked to state what they thought of the trial. One of the lawyers said that the trial was brought to my attention most plainly that some of our brethren of the Baptist faith were prosecuting an open and aggressive system of proselytizing.

STITUTIONALS.

uchs and Editorial Shortstop
ought on the Run.
"Constitutional" builders flung
y into a chair yesterday he found Ellijay Court. The Courier de-editorial to reminiscences of the
ing up with an expression of confi-d as it is. A few of the items in the Constitutional man into a a

ems was to the effect that Captain
just returned to Morgan from ing with his daughter, who term in school. The other was ing on the Marietta and North penetrated into Fannin county.
at once recalled that young girl's
me, and the wild midnight ride

pears was making his last race for not only of Georgia, but of centered in it. It was felt that if obtaining re-election, that the y in the state would be endan-
the desire of the people for the writer was sent up into the three Gilmor and Fannin, with in and have conveyed to the turns which the people of these
er collected for themselves in less

Marietta and North Georgia
pleted to within three miles of the gang under charge of Cap-
two miles north of Jasper, and Marietta by telephone. From the county site of Gilmer, was distant with Morganton, the
min, twenty one miles farther
was to have the returns brought
from each of the militia
specie sites, there con-
to Captain Hammert's camp,
telephoned to Marietta, tele-
to Atlanta when through THE
would be given to the world next
for Pickens were easily arrang-
was in store in Gilmer and

missed had an important part to
it was necessary. The correlously through the woods to
and soon became interested in
one. From this reverie he was
by the threat.

Mr. Patterson interrupted and claimed that
while this was true, the rule was for the
speaker never to vote unless in a case of a tie.

Mr. Guerry quickly responded that he knew
that was the major's budge, and immediately
presented Mr. Patterson with the house journal
of 1880, in which Major Bacon had uniformly voted when there was no tie for his
friends when candidates for office, Mr. Patterson
among them, as candidate for solicitor
and also reiterated, with powerful effect on
the audience, that then, according to Mr. Patterson's admission and position, there must
have been a tie vote on the convict lease act.

Major Bacon must have cast the deciding
vote in favor of the man whom he had
voted for.

Mr. Patterson interrupted and claimed that
while this was true, the rule was for the
speaker never to vote unless in a case of a tie.

Mr. Guerry quickly responded that he knew
that was the major's budge, and immediately
presented Mr. Patterson with the house journal
of 1880, in which Major Bacon had uni-
formly voted when there was no tie for his
friends when candidates for office, Mr. Patterson
among them, as candidate for solicitor
and also reiterated, with powerful effect on
the audience, that then, according to Mr. Patterson's admission and position, there must
have been a tie vote on the convict lease act.

Major Bacon must have cast the deciding
vote in favor of the man whom he had
voted for.

Mr. Guerry was a revelation never been in such a place
was primitive, but the people
were not disturbed by the
of the day. The old modes communication, and of life in them. Ascending the hill
the vegetation grew more
and steeper, and the air was
the summit, and descending the
in the house of Hon. Mr.
It had been lately touch-
the paint, and upon the
the old-time loom and shut-

Some APT COMPARISONS.
Mr. Guerry then showed and read editorials from the Telegraph, in which Dr. Felton had been denounced as a falsifier, as a communist
and compared to Herr Most, Citizen Schwab
and Guiteau, and then took up the issue of that paper containing Felton's great speech at Montezuma, and read at the head of the editorial column the announcement of Bacon's and Felton's speech, which were as follows:

"BACON & FELTON,"

new firm; "Bacon will speak" so and so at such a place; "Dr. Felton will speak" so and so at such a place, and just next to these
announcements he read an editorial squib as follows:

"HERR MOST,"

new firm; "Bacon & Herr Most" will speak
so and so at such a place, and just next to these
announcements he read an editorial squib as follows:

"BACON & FELTON."

Mr. Guerry's eulogy on General Gordon
was one of the finest efforts ever made by a political speaker, and was greeted by the wildest applause, which shook the building for some time, after he ceased to speak.

After the speech the crowd cheered most lustily and the hurrahs of the crowd made it evident that Gordon will carry at least three
to one in Houston county.

Some feeble attempt at cheers was made at Patterson's really fine conclusion, but it was mostly from juvenile throats. For a weak side Patterson made a good speech, but as numbers of gentlemen remarked, it fell flat.

CHEERING REPORTS.

Taylor county was represented at Colonel Guerry's address by Hon. E. Aultman and Colonel J. P. Carson; Macon county by Mr. E.
Baldwin, Colonel Edwards and others.

Taylor county will go four to one for Gordon,

and there little doubt that he will carry

Macon also, which has been claimed for Bacon.

Crawford county will also poll for Bacon.

Strong Word.

NOTICE claims that the use
in "knocked down and drug Georgia." And the Indianapolis
when a hoister says "the
"seized" known only in Indiana.

He Bather.

his girlie she unfound,

the insensate he

the vane he

keen though timid eyes,

ment to catch each stir

driving him to the

each eye with a hymn,

as his lance of sound

and knew herself

that hidden pool.

her wondrous hair she

the sun glass, and bright as stones. Deion below

and shining wings coll-

wonder Jason sought.

like white doves in a net,

and the silken threads,

both she higher laid, and

more tremulous waves

her right robe she un-

ward, with a blush that lowered her.

andals from her feet,

ink of that blue lake,

not gods or men—

in paradise.

she was looking

with so true alirth,

and blushing, looked again,

and again to her

that renders back

herself, until their eyes

own loveliness.

In each of which has

The Gwinnett Herald says:

The election draws near, look out for paid

and unscrupulous politicians.

This is only a few from the paid emissaries of

the Macon ring, who are already on the ground.

The Albany News, after all, is likely to wear round to the right side. It says in its last issue:

To expand a cause, to establish a principle;

GUERRY'S GRIT.

HE SHOWS UP BACON AS A LEGIS-LATOR.

whose Practice Was to Dodge Votes When an Issue
Was at Stake.—His Responsibility for the Convict Lease.—Mr. Patterson Finds Him
suing a Bad Cause—Other Notes.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., June 10.—[Special.]—A crowd of 250 assembled at Gray's hall waiting to hear Hon. Dunlop Guerry and Mr. R. W. Patterson on the gubernatorial question.

Mr. H. A. Matthews introduced Mr. Patterson, who spoke very earnestly for Bacon, eulogizing General Gordon's war record, but insisting on Bacon's fitness for governor. He followed most of the convict lease system, following in the path of Dr. Felton.

BROUGHT TO THIS TIME.

As he was conducting this part of his speech Mr. Guerry arose and asked him whether Mr. Bacon voted for or against the convict lease act. Mr. Patterson said he reply that he was not certain, but presumed he voted for it.

In replying to this part of Mr. Patterson's speech, Mr. Guerry contended that if the convict lease system was an iniquitous, as claimed, the sworn legislator that inaugurated it was more at fault than these unworn citizens who hired the convicts when offered under the act to hire.

In concluding this part of his argument, Mr. Guerry suggested that the only relief for Baconism and the convict lease trouble was to have the convicts who had been hired to work for him.

The democratic executive committee of Union county will act on the matter, determine the time and manner in which the democracy of that county will select delegates to the gubernatorial and congressional conventions.

The Butler Herald says:

On Tuesday of last week nine counties selected delegates to the Central Georgia constitutional convention; seven of those counties selected Gordon delegates, and the other two Bacon delegates. The peculiar significance of this contest is the fact that most of these nine counties are in the northern part of the state, and are the ones that have been most friendly to Bacon, especially as they had been "fixed" on that line. That is, selection of delegates by primaries had been refused, a meeting of all constituents in each county having been called for that purpose.

The Gordon men before the selection of delegates in those counties would have thought they were safe, but the development of the campaign has prepared them to believe otherwise.

Another delegate was chosen for the county in which Mr. Guerry was born, and the friends of the major were jubilant.

Mr. Patterson contended that Major Bacon always had been in favor of the railroad community, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

convict lease system, and that he had been a member of the

NICUTT'S
Nematic Cure!
NDER OF THE AGE!

RHEUMATISM
other troubles of the

AND MUSCLES

long you have suffered,

Rheumatic Cure

RELUCE YOU.

ALL DRUGGISTS.

RESTORED. Kennedy

A VICTIM OF RHEU-

MATIC DISEASES

has been cured by

the above.

BUREAU OF MATRIMONIAL

ARRANGED PERSONS.

Fayette St., Baltimore, Md.

been established to

arrange matches and the affairs

of responsible hands, will be principles of good faith.

The Bureau affords ample protection

to fifty cents to above address for writing the plan of the Bureau,

as it proposes to do.

L O P I U M C U R E

NOT PAY!

SAY IN FOURTEEN DAYS

well. My remedy is infallible.

By Dr. A. P. BROWN, M. D.

Smyrna, Cobb County, Ga.

mari-dy

END IN NEED.

INFALLIBLE LINIMENT

recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet,

great natural Body Sitter. Has

and the best

Neuralgia, Sprains,

wounds and all external in-

ALL DRUGGETS—TRY IT

STEES' SALE.

Columbus Manufacturing

Company, manufacturers of some of the finest water power on

river, just above the city of

LA. MUSCOGEE COUNTY—By

order of the court of Appeals

and the circuit court of the state of Georgia,

whereby the said corporation

is required to pay the

sum of $100,000 to the city of Columbus. Muscogee

Company, in trust for the use of schools in front of the knowles & Co. on the northeast street and tenth (formerly

the) south-west corner of

Petersburg at Peters' corner, to the sum of $100,000, to be used in the county of Lee, state of Georgia, in the amount passed by the court on April 24, 1862, under the case of the city of Columbus v. Muscogee Co.

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

trustees of the said corporation

and the amount paid in by the

Preferred Locals.

Peach Blow Vases,
Alto and Bas Relief Porcelain Figures
—And Other—

Novelties at McBride's.
Dinner, Tea and Toilet Sets,
Ice Cream Freezers, Hotel Supplies,

Gate City Stone Filters,
Baldwin Dry Air Refrigerators.

McBrides', 32 Wall St.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

Daily Weather Report.

OBSERVER'S OFFICE, SIGNAL CORPS, U. S. A.
U. S. CUSTOM HOUSE, June 10, 9:50 a.m.
All observations taken at the same moment,
time at each place named:

	Buoyancy	Barometer	Wind	Direction	Velocity	Rainfall.	Weather.
Augusta	20.97	69	N.E.	Light.	.11	Cloudy.
Brownsville	20.90	75	N.W.	Light.	.11	Light rain.
Jacksonville	20.87	71	E.S.E.	12	.25	Thick rain.
Mobile	20.87	71	E.N.E.	12	.25	Thick rain.
New Orleans	20.84	78	S.E.	Light.	.00	Fair.
Galveston	20.84	78	S.E.	Light.	.00	Fair.
Baltimore	20.84	78	S.E.	Light.	.00	Fair.
Fort Smith	20.84	78	S.E.	Light.	.00	Fair.
Shreveport	20.84	78	S.E.	Light.	.00	Fair.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

6 a.m. 20.92 68 SW 4 .18 Fair.
10 a.m. 20.89 75 SW 4 .00 Fair.
2 p.m. 20.89 75 SW 4 .00 Fair.
5 p.m. 20.86 72 SW 4 .00 Fair.
9 p.m. 20.87 71 [69 SW Light. .00 Fair.

Maximum ther. 82° at 11 a.m.
Minimum ther. 67° at 6 a.m.
Total rain fall. .45

Cotton Belt Bulletin.
Observations taken at 6 p.m.—57th meridian.

ATLANTA DISTRICT.

	Maximum Minimun Temp.	Rainfall.
Atlanta, Ga.	82	.67
Anderson, S. C.	82	.67
Charleston, S. C.	82	.67
Columbia, Ga.	86	.73
Chattanooga, Tenn.	84	.67
Gainesville, S. C.	84	.68
Griffin, Ga.	84	.71
Newnan, Ga.	88	.71
Spartanburg, S. C.	84	.68
Toccoa, Ga.	86	.67
West Point, Ga.	84	.70

WATCHES.

J. P. STEVENS,
JEWELER,
47 WHITEHALL ST.

Meetings.

I. O. O. F. Memorial Notice.

Memorial services
of Brother Past Grand St. L. J. Glenn
at the Lodge No. 1 at 5 o'clock, Friday, June 11, 1886. The members of sister lodges in the city and visiting brethren
and their friends will be present. The exercises will be public and under the auspices of all the lodges in the city.

Mr. J. B. MORGAN, of LaGrange, is among the visitors to Atlanta.

Mr. G. A. WEAVER and wife, of Thomaston,
are guests of the Kimball.

LIEUTENANT MAGNUS O. HALL, United States army, is at the Kimball.

MR. E. T. COMER and Mrs. C. L. Comer, of Savannah, are the Kimball.

SAM WALKER, 24 Marietta street, makes all styles of picture frames. Try him.

O. E. MAER, editor and proprietor of the Columbus, Miss., Dispatch, was in the city yesterday.

MISS BESSIE REDDING, who graduated at Montgomery College, Christiansburg, Va., returned to Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. G. N. HARVEY, of Macon, visited Atlanta yesterday. Mr. Hartman will spend several weeks in northern cities.

CAPTAIN W. B. BEEBY, a prominent banker of Newnan, arrived in the city yesterday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Olive.

COLONEL G. W. ADAIR has been engaged to conduct the auction sales of lots of the Elton
Land company, on 15th instant, at Birmingham.

Mrs. W. A. HEMPHILL and children, and Mrs. John Keely and children are spending several weeks at Cumberland island, the charming southern resort.

Mr. O. E. MORRISON, editor and proprietor of the Columbus, Miss., Dispatch, and one of the most prominent journalists in the southwest, is in the city for a few days, stopping at the Kimball.

MR. P. G. GORDON, the representative of the well known Baseball tobacco manufactured at Richmond, was in New Orleans yesterday afternoon. He was accompanied by C. D. Lazzarus, a member of the Richmond firm.

DR. ARMSTRONG, by request of the association, will repeat his celebrated lecture, "Whether is this spirit of the Age Carrying Us?" on Friday night of this week, at the courthouse hall. It is said to be one of the finest lectures ever delivered in Atlanta.

MR. GEORGE M. NAPIER, editor of the Walton County News, was in the city yesterday. Mr.
Napier publishes one of the best weeklies in the state, and his ability as a journalist is demonstrated in every issue of his paper.

AT THE KIMBALL: A. H. EVANS, Chattanooga;
Terry, John, Jr., Washington, D. C.; D. J. Brister,
New York; J. E. Jones, Boston; W. H. Moore,
Montgomery; W. E. Pratt, Alabama; N. Height, Sewell; W.
P. Montriv, G. E. Wilson, Virginia; H. P.
Broadfoot, New York; E. Hahn, New York; Thomas
P. Hall, Nashville; Wm. Baker, Alabama; W. R. Robson,
Texas; E. T. Conner, Savannah, Ga.; E. McDonald, Springfield, O.; John Cohen, Atlanta; E. E. Jackson, New Orleans; W. H. Hudson, Geo. A. Hartman, N. C.; W. H. Hudson, Griffin,
S. B. Jordan, St. Louis; G. A. Weaver and wife, of Marietta; W. H. Cook, G.; W. Gribble, R. E. Ayers
and wife, Chillicothe; W. T. Jackson, Atlanta;
W. B. Berry, Miss O. Berry, Newnan, Ga.;
G. S. Morris, O. H. Morris, North Carolina;
G. S. Morris, Frank, B. J. Morris, G. M. Colvin,
New York; F. W. Varn, Florida; Miss B. M. Gram,
Lafayette; Lovell, Rome, Ga.; W. W. Wooten,
New York; Frank, Cincinnati, R. E. Jackson,
Cason, Cincinnati, O.; W. F. Hicks, Huntsville, Ala.;
Milton Moss, Chicago; H. D. Troutman, Louisville, Ky.; D. T. Jackson, Atlanta; C. A. George,
D. T. Jackson, Georgia; J. W. Johnston, Alabama;
T. Berry, New York; P. C. Massy, Montgomery, Ala.;
John Timmons, Kansas; N. C.; Miss D. Emmet,
Miss Helen Blamey, Tampa, Florida; Miss G. A.
Miss Helen Wimberly, Twiggs county, Ga.; W. D. S. S.
ago, Philadelphia; J. H. Warner, D. M. Wacke, Baltimore.

One dozen boxes of the best matches ever made for five cents, at T. C. Maysons.

"Red Lion" Elixir for rigors and general
debility.

Deep Cut

In prices on all cassimere and worsted suits.
Eiseman Bros., 55 Whitehall st.

GIRL GRADUATES.

THE DIPLOMAS ISSUED BY THE ATLANTA FEMALE INSTITUTE.

The Graduating Class of the Atlanta Female Institute Last Night—The Hall Covered With Flowers—Governor McDaniel Delivers
an Address—The Programmes, Etc.

The exercises of the graduating class of the Atlanta Female Institute and college of music
took place last evening at the institute hall.

On account of the size of the hall only a limited number of the friends and patrons of the institute were invited, yet the hall was filled to overflowing with a cultured and most appreciative audience. The hall was decorated with works of art and with most beautiful and rare flowers. On the wall over the stage was the inscription, "Class '86." The design was very prettily made of daisies on a background of evergreens. On the stage was a hand-painted screen, the work of one of the pupils, which was much admired. The programme presented was one which did full justice to the institute, and really reflected credit both on teachers and pupils. The following is the programme:

THE DAY'S WORK

the value of this very important branch of modern education, by increasing the happiness
of home life and the general condition of mankind.

"The Influence of Poetry" was portrayed in an oration by John W. Young, showing careful thought and study of the ennobling influence
of poetry, "the voice of all that is best in humanity."

Next followed the presentation of the diplomas by Acting President Chase, with a few words of appropriate counsel. Four diplomas had finished the college course, and thirteen from
the normal college, and thirteen from
the institute. "If with all your hearts,"
from Butterfield, was well rendered by the students' quartette club.

Dr. William Hayes Ward, the leading editor of the New York Independent, the religious newspaper of America, gave next the annual address. He said that the object of any school is to teach men how to seek for truth
and how to recognize it when found. He gave a rapid and interesting account of the discoveries by excavations in Babylon and elsewhere, revealing the ancient inscriptions
which corroborate remarkably the truth of the Bible history. Accuracy in thought, of course, is always demanded. Patience and steadfastness in seeking reform was illustrated
by the history of the anti-slavery sentiment
and the temperance reform, with the truest
and purest effort to find and obey the truth.

CHATTANOOGA Defeats Atlanta.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 10.—[Special.]—

The Chattanooga Club again defeated the Atlanta
Champions—Augusta Downs, Charleston—Memphis State Nashville in a Thirteen Inning Game—No Game at Savannah.

Only three games were played in the Southern league yesterday, and the scores show
there was some brilliant exhibitions of ball
playing. Especially is this true of the Memphis-Nashville game. Atlanta came near being shut out by Chattanooga. Augusta beat Charleston, and rain prevented the Macon-Savannah game. There will probably be two games in Savannah today. It has been fully demonstrated that no club has a certainty of winning the pennant.
The end of the season will show many changes
from the present standing of the clubs, and nobody can foretell what they will be.

CHATTANOOGA Defeats Atlanta.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 10.—[Special.]—

Again the Chattanooga downed the champions,
winning today's game with hands down, by a score of seven to one. Shreve was put in the box for the locals and paid off by the visitors, allowing twelve hits, two of which went over the left field fence
for two bases. Several other two base hits were made off his delivery. The locals played a fine fielding game. Great complaint is made of Purcell's treatment of his players, and his conduct on the field. His preface on the grounds today disgusted many, and should have been punished
with a heavy fine.

Following is the official score:

CHATTANOOGA. ATLANTA.

R BH PO A E R BH PO A E

Gresham, c. f. 1 2 4 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

Dickerson, r. f. 1 2 3 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

McDaniel, r. f. 1 2 3 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

Kent, r. f. 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

McClure, c. f. 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

McDonald, c. f. 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

Arundel, c. f. 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

Shreve, p. 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 1 1

Totals... 24 17 16 1 1 Totals... 1 6 27 15 15

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Chattanooga... 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 0 1 1
Atlanta... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1

SUMMARY.

Earned runs, Chattanooga 3; double plays,
Lynch, unassisted, two base hits on Kent, Cross,
Levis, Cline and Lyons; wild pitches, Shreve 2.
Weiss, 1; passed ball, Arundel, Gunson, struck out, 1; foul ball, Gresham, 1; wild pitch, Shreve 1.
Wells, left on bases, Chattanooga 7, Atlanta 1.
Time, 2 hours, two and fifteen minutes.
Umpire, Brennan.

The following is the score:

NASHVILLE.

R BH PO A E R BH PO A E

Sneed, r. f. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Andrews, b. f. 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

McSorley, b. f. 1 2 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Marz, b. f. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Broughton, r. f. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Wells, r. f. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Fussell, c. f. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Bitman, b. f. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Phelan, r. f. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

Whitch, c. f. 0 0 0